

Saved Bridle and Saddle but Left Horse

They are telling a good story on Jesse Watts, son of Mr. W. E. Watts, of the Hornsboro section. Recently he started to church on horseback but before he got there his horse fell and rolled over on his back in a shallow ditch. The boy tried every method known to him to get the horse out, but failed. He took the bridle and saddle and went back home, and then went on 'possum hunting.

The horse lay there in the ditch and scared a good many horses as the people returned from church, and was finally raised by the boy's father and others. The boy came in whistling next morning fresh from his all-night hunt entirely oblivious of the existence of any horse. If he remembered the experience of the night before there was nothing in this bearing to show it.

She—"How did they ever come to marry?"

He—"Oh, it's the same old story. Started out to be good friends, you know, and later on changed their minds."—Ex.

Plant at Least a Seed Patch of Abruzzi Rye This Fall

Progressive Farmer.

While generally we would prefer crimson clover as a winter cover crop to plow under as a fertilizer next spring, the great merits of Abruzzi rye as a winter grazing and cover crop should not be overlooked. Introduced from Italy several years ago, this variety of rye has in nearly every section of the Cotton Belt proved its great value. Last year we knew of plantings made the middle of September that were knee high by Christmas, and furnished excellent grazing from December until April, during a period when green feed is always scarce. Still another advantage of rye is that it will grow on thin land, affording more grazing under such conditions than probably any other crop.

Where early winter grazing is wanted, planting should be done about September 15, putting from one to one and one-half bushels of seed per acre. Where it is intended to harvest the crop for seed, planting in November will be safer, since the earlier plantings are likely to make a heavy growth before winter is over and be seriously injured by a late freeze.

While Abruzzi rye seed are comparatively high-priced, being quoted now at from $2 to $3 a bushel, the crop is such an excellent one that at least a small area should be tried in order to learn something of its merits. Put in an acre seed patch, any way, and then save enough seed next spring to plant a number of acres.

As a winter grazing crop for hungry yearlings, as a place for the colts to run, and as a means of getting high-priced winter eggs from the farm hens, readers will find a field of Abruzzi rye one of the best things ever tried.

The Sign Of Singer Service

Prominent in every Singer Shop window is a large red "S." Many people regard this merely as a form of adornment. It has, however, a much greater meaning. The sign stands for Singer Service, which is built upon a number of important business principles, among which are integrity, a determination to give the utmost of good value for the money, and courteous attention. The customer who buys a packet of needles is entitled to the same consideration and attention that is given to the buyer of a Singer Cabinet Table Sewing Machine. This rule is invariable in all Singer Shops. If you have a Sewing Machine, possibly it needs cleaning. We clean and repair all makes for little money. You are told the cost before the work is begun. The Singer Sewing Machine is recognized all over the world as the model of sewing machine, and all other makes are judged by the Singer standard. That is why every woman is proud to own a Singer. Because the "Singer" is always the pride of its owner. It needs no apology no explanation. Singer Machines cover the field; either Oscillation Shuttle, Rotary Hook, Vibrating Shuttle or Automatic Chain Stitch. When a woman can point to the name "Singer" on her machine her friends realize that she has the best machine of its type that money can buy, and every woman knows this. Singer Machines are sold only at Singer Shops or by Salesmen, never thru dealers or under other names.

We want to put a Machine in your home for free trial. Mail your order today. Terms to suit you. Cash or credit. We also have second hand Sewing Machines for sale. Cash or easy payments. Rebuilt machines $8.00 and up. We always carry in stock the very best Singer Machines Oil and Needles to fit any make of machines. Write at once or see the Singer Salesman when in Pageland.
